

QUALITY POLICY STATEMENT

(Note: This policy is part of the Quality Bible, and cannot be used on its own unless it is signed and approved by the Managing Director or Operations Director)

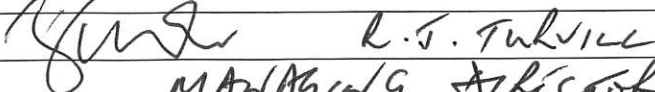

Swiss Camplings provides an extensive range of textile/linen products and associated services, with a variety of maintenance and distribution schemes to industry, commerce and healthcare establishments. The Company is committed in providing its customers a high quality product and service, and exceeding their expectations when possible through innovations, modern engineering and continuous improvement initiatives.

Across both sites the management team is focused on abiding by the Company's quality principles, and periodically reviewing them in accordance with the latest industry standards.

The Company is also committed in providing effective training and motivation to all its employees on a continual basis, to help them adhere to the quality principles.

Swiss Camplings endeavours to promote strong working relationships with suppliers and customers to enhance the quality of incoming goods, and subsequently the quality of the finished product and service.

The Managing Director and the senior management are committed to the implementation of this policy across the business. Though ultimately, the responsibility to look after the quality lies with all the employees.
