

Policy Statement

It is the Company policy to have a defined process system, which is cost effective in meeting the specified standards required by its customer. The Company recognises the need to maintain and continually improve on its business performance identifying its risk and opportunities that exist in meeting the ever-changing technology of which it plays a part.

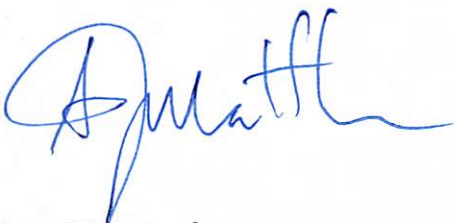

The Senior Management maintains an independent reporting system, which gives them the confidence in the standard of the product being received by its customers, having the fundamental aspects for which it was designed with regard to performance, safety and reliability.

The Company maintains a list of objectives defining responsibility and target dates which are reviewed for suitability by Managing Director during stages of their implementation

To meet these objectives, an effective business system to ISO 9001:2015 has been installed ensuring that all the functions and activities relating to the business are recorded and independently audited, maintaining a system that controls the processes of the company while providing for the needs of other interested parties and in meeting current legislation.

This Business Manual accurately describes the process systems and associated activities as such they are mandatory, and binding on all employees of Radio Systems Limited
